

Project Cornerstone and the YMCA are so glad you are here! The past year gave us all a chance to help others, maybe in some new and different ways.

- How were you able to help and care for others during this past year? It could be people, animals, or your community.
- Do you have a favorite organization you would like to volunteer with?
- What is one thing you think people can do to show care and concern for others?
- If you received help from others think about what that meant to you or your family.

Developmental Asset #26— CARING: Young person places high value on caring for and helping others.

Learn more at www.projectcornerstone.org

Project Cornerstone and the YMCA are so glad you are here! The past year gave us all a chance to help others, maybe in some new and different ways.

- How were you able to help and care for others during this past year? It could be people, animals, or your community.
- Do you have a favorite organization you would like to volunteer with?
- What is one thing you think people can do to show care and concern for others?
- If you received help from others think about what that meant to you or your family.

Developmental Asset #26— CARING: Young person places high value on caring for and helping others.

Learn more at www.projectcornerstone.org

Project Cornerstone and the YMCA are so glad you are here! The past year gave us all a chance to help others, maybe in some new and different ways.

- How were you able to help and care for others during this past year? It could be people, animals, or your community.
- Do you have a favorite organization you would like to volunteer with?
- What is one thing you think people can do to show care and concern for others?
- If you received help from others think about what that meant to you or your family.

Developmental Asset #26— CARING: Young person places high value on caring for and helping others.

Learn more at www.projectcornerstone.org

Project Cornerstone and the YMCA are so glad you are here! The past year gave us all a chance to help others, maybe in some new and different ways.

- How were you able to help and care for others during this past year? It could be people, animals, or your community.
- Do you have a favorite organization you would like to volunteer with?
- What is one thing you think people can do to show care and concern for others?
- If you received help from others think about what that meant to you or your family.

Developmental Asset #26— CARING: Young person places high value on caring for and helping others.

Learn more at www.projectcornerstone.org